COW AND CALF GO TO EACH MAN IN SERVICE

Montrose, Colo.—The Uncompahgre Valley Cattle and Horse Breeder's Association has decided to present every enlisted man with a thoroughbred cow and calf, and Adam Thomas, a wealthy rancher, has agreed to care for the animals until the soldiers return from the battle fronts. In case any herd increases it will remain the property of the man to whom the cow was allotted.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today.

EMPHASIS ON LAST LINE.

Just to let you into the secret, "What makes a doctor laugh," the following are from the Journal of the American Medical Association:

My Tuesdays are meatless,
My Wednesdays are meatless,
I'm getting more eatless each day;

My house it is meatless,
My bed it is sheetless—

They've gone to the Y. M. C. A.;

The barrooms are treatless,
My coffee is sweetless,

Each day I get poorer and wiser;
My stockings are footless,

My trousers are seatless—
Je-roosh, how I hate the dam

BRIGHT YOUNGSTER.

"Ethel, can't you tell us the shape of the world?" asked teacher—dear encouragingly.

"Yesum; it's in a pretty bad shape just now," replied the precocious child who had heard her daddy say a few things at home.—Florida Times-Union.

ONE AT A TIME.

"He is a man who likes to prolong envy of his advantages by parading them before others less fortunate."

"Yes; he got a ton of coal today and had it carried into his cellar in bags."

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't remove them. Doan's Ointment is recommended for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. 60c at any drug store.—Advertisement.

WIN WAR IN KITCHEN

New Slogan of the People of Great Britain.

Bones Saved by the Housewives Are Turned Into Munitions of War.

London—Save that old bone; it may kill a German.

This is the thought that flashes through the mind of the English housewife these days following an appeal made to her to conserve all the old bones from the kitchen, that they may be used in the manufacture of glycerin and then incorporated into bombs and shells for the army in France. The movement has the approval of the minister of munitions.

The appeal to the housewife says that bones will produce glycerin, which yields glycerin for explosives; glue for the making of airplanes and bone meal, a fertilizer which increases food crops and thus aids in the battle against the German submarines.

For the bones which were formerly thrown away or burned the housewife will receive one cent a pound from her butcher or margarine dealer, who in turn will receive a profit of one cent a pound in turning them over to the general collector, to whom a fair profit also is allowed.

From the enthusiastic responses from the women of England it begins to look as if the plan to "Win the war in the kitchen" will prove popular with those unable to go to the front or otherwise offer their services to the government.

Dead Murderer's Hand.

The most ghastly of all tall tales or charms was the "Dead Man's Candle," or "Hand of Glory." Sir Walter Scott, in "The Antiquary," describes it, in the mouth of Donal-swivel, as a hand cut off a man hanged for murder. It was dried, he says, in the smoke of juniper and yew. A candle made of the fat of the bear, the badger, and a "little sucking child" having been put into the hand at the proper planetary time, treasure buried then would never be discovered by any but the true owner. Scott, however, was inaccurate. The proper recipe is to be found in "Les Secrets du Petit Albert." The hand (which had to be the right hand of a murderer hung in chains) was blanched in the sun with mystical ceremonies. The candle was composed mainly of the fat of a murderer scooped from under the wayside gibbet, the wick being made of the twisted hair of the criminal. The light of the horrible candle was alleged to have the effect of preventing those who saw it from moving or calling out, and he who held it could ransack with impunity.
